PERFORMANCE ANALYSIS

Investment Objective and Strategies

The Portfolio seeks to achieve, through investment diversification, a return comprised mostly of long-term capital growth and also of steady income. The Portfolio invests primarily in equity securities of Canadian and foreign issuers, and in debt instruments of Canadian and foreign issuers. The Portfolio Manager uses a top-down global approach for managing both the asset allocation and geographic allocation, being mixes of Canadian, American, European, Asian and emerging markets equities. The Portfolio's investments in the various asset types include a majority of units issued by other investment funds. These underlying investment funds are selected according to their overall contribution to the yield and risk/return profile of the Portfolio. The Portfolio invests mainly in its family of Portfolios, but could also invest in funds of other families of funds. To the extent that investments are made by certain of our Portfolios in underlying funds, the investment principles and strategies used to select the securities of the other funds will follow the same criteria as those used to select individual securities.

Risk

The Portfolio invests mainly in equities and debt securities, both Canadian and foreign. Derivatives may also be used for hedging or to establish market positions. The Portfolio's investment risks are as set forth in the Simplified Prospectus. The risks associated with the Portfolio and its holdings are as follows: stock market risk, credit risk, sector risk, foreign securities risk, specific issuer risk, currency risk, interest rate risk, derivatives risk, securities lending risk, emerging markets risk, exchange-traded funds risk, underlying funds risk, asset-backed and mortgage-backed securities risk, multi-series risk, short selling risk and loss restrictions risk.

Operating Results

The FDP Balanced Growth Portfolio posted a net return of 2.7% for the first six-month period of 2018, versus 4.4% for 2017. This result stems partly from global stock market returns, specifically in the Canadian (+2.0%) and U.S. (+7.8%) equity components. Stock markets in general, and the U.S. market in particular, benefitted from good returns within the Information Technology sector, including FANG (Facebook, Amazon, Netflix and Google) stocks.

The bond market, as measured by the FTSE TMX Canada Universe Bond Index, posted a 0.6% return. The 10-year government of Canada bond yield increased by 11 basis points over the period. Meanwhile, the Canadian stock market, as measured by the S&P/TSX Composite Index, posted a 2.0% return over the first half of 2018. More than half of the index's component sectors posted positive returns. The rising oil price, which went from USD60.42 a barrel in late December 2017 to USD74.15 a barrel as at June 30, 2018, representing a 22.7% increase, enabled the Energy sector, which makes up over 21% of the Canadian index, to post a 5.6% return over the six-month period. Conversely, sectors sensitive to interest rate fluctuations, such as Utilities (-6.8%), Telecommunications (-5.0%) and Financials (-1.0%), were affected by the actual and anticipated increases of the Bank of Canada's bank rate.

The U.S. stock market, as measured by the S&P 500 Index, has been on an upswing since the beginning of the year, posting a 7.8% return in Canadian dollars over the first half of 2018. Stocks within the IT sector, particularly those linked to consumer goods, greatly contributed to the S&P 500's performance. The U.S. also put its protectionist stance into action by postponing further NAFTA renegotiations until November 2018 and imposing policies that exacerbate trade tensions with the rest of the world, inflating them to historic levels.

As central banks look to withdraw emergency policies implemented in the wake of the financial crisis and return to more normal market conditions, synchronized global economic growth, the U.S. income tax reform and corporate profits should improve companies' bottom lines. However, the overnight rate increase among several central banks, along with the heightened risk of a trade war, are generating uncertainty across markets. Against this backdrop, eurozone markets still managed to post a 1.6% increase in Canadian dollars, with Asian markets also growing by 1.5%, thanks to the Canadian dollar's 4.8% devaluation versus its U.S. counterpart.

Despite the global economy's sustained growth, markets across emerging countries struggled over the six-month period due to the resurgence of volatility, after posting excellent returns in 2017. Trade war threats, the distinct political climate in certain emerging countries, as well as tightening monetary policies in the U.S. and the U.K., among other nations, had more severe repercussions on emerging markets than their developed counterparts.

⁽¹⁾ For the years ended December 31, 2015 and before, the information is derived from the audited annual financial statements in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles as defined in Part V of the Canada CPA Handbook. As a result, net assets per unit presented in the financial statements differ from the net asset value calculated for the purposes of calculating unit prices and the differences are explained in the notes to the financial statements. For the following fiscal years, the information is derived from audited annual financial statements in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS). In compliance with these Standards, net assets per unit presented in the financial statements generally equal the net asset value calculated to establish unit prices.

⁽²⁾ Management expense ratio includes management fees and operating expenses. It excludes income tax withheld on dividend income and transaction costs, and is expressed as a percentage of the daily average annualized net asset value during the fiscal year.

MANAGEMENT FEES

The Portfolio pays management fees to the Manager, Professionals' Financial – Mutual Funds Inc., for service rendered to the unitholders, and investment management and administration services. The annual management fees of 1.00% are calculated daily according to the net assets and paid monthly after deducting the value of interfund investments. For the first six months of the year 2018, the Portfolio paid $270,000 to its Manager.

PAST PERFORMANCE

Information on performance presupposes that the Portfolio's distributions during the periods presented have been totally reinvested in additional units. The returns do not include deductions for sales fees, transfer, redemption or other optional fees (because there are none) or income taxes payable, and would be lower if they included such items. The Portfolio's past performance is not necessarily indicative of future performance.

Annual Performance

The following bar graph indicates the Portfolio's annual returns for each year. It shows the year-to-year variation in the Portfolio's return. The graph presents, in percentage form, what would have been the upward or downward variation, on the last day of the period, of an investment made on the first day of that year.
