PERFORMANCE ANALYSIS

Investment Objective and Strategies

The Portfolio seeks to achieve, through investment diversification, a return comprised of steady income and medium- and long-term capital growth. The Portfolio invests primarily in equity securities of Canadian and foreign issuers, and in debt instruments of Canadian and foreign issuers. The Portfolio Manager uses a top-down global approach for managing both the asset allocation and geographic allocation, being mixes of Canadian, American, European, Asian and emerging markets equities. The Portfolio's investments in the various asset types include mostly units issued by other investment funds. These underlying investment funds are selected according to their overall contribution to yield and risk/return profile of the Portfolio. The Portfolio invests mainly in its family of Portfolios, but could also invest in funds of other families of funds. To the extent that investments are made by certain of our Portfolios in underlying funds, the investment principles and strategies used to select the securities of the other funds will follow the same criteria as those used to select individual securities.

Risk

The Portfolio invests primarily in debt securities and equities, both Canadian and foreign. Derivatives may also be used for hedging or to establish market positions. The Portfolio's investment risks are as set forth in the Simplified Prospectus. The risks associated with the Portfolio and its holdings are as follows: stock market risk, credit risk, sector risk, foreign securities risk, specific issuer risk, currency risk, interest rate risk, derivatives risk, securities lending risk, emerging markets risk, exchange-traded funds risk, underlying funds risk, asset-backed and mortgage-backed securities risk, multi-series risk, short selling risk and loss restrictions risk.

Operating Results

The FDP Balanced Portfolio posted a net return of 10.9% for the first six-month period of 2019, versus -3.1% for 2018. This result stems partly from the performance of the Canadian stock market (16.2%) and global stock market returns, in Canadian dollars, specifically in the U.S. (13.4%) and European (10.8%) equity components.

The bond market, as measured by the FTSE Canada Universe Bond Index, posted a 6.5% return. The 10-year government of Canada bond yield declined by 50 basis points in 2019, causing the spread between long- and short-term yields to narrow considerably. Due in part to a slowdown in global economic growth, the flattening of the yield curve led central banks, including the U.S. Federal Reserve (Fed) and the European Central Bank in particular, to implement a new approach and adopt a more accommodative monetary policy. The exacerbation of trade tensions between the United States and China and a moderate inflation rate also drove central banks to change their stance. Credit spreads tightened in the provincial bond and corporate bond sectors in 2019.

The Canadian stock market, as measured by the S&P/TSX Composite Index, posted a 16.2% return over the first half of 2019. The index's eleven component sectors all posted positive returns. Unlike in 2018, rising oil prices, which went from USD45.41 a barrel in late December 2018 to USD58.47 as at June 30, 2019, representing a 28.8% increase, enabled the Energy sector to post a 12.3% return over the six-month period. Information Technology (44.0%), Health Care (35.2%), Utilities (22.4%) and Industrials (21.1%) all contributed significantly to the index's performance.

Supported by positive economic growth, an economy at full employment and the Fed's shift in rhetoric, the U.S. stock market, as measured by the S&P 500, posted a net return of 13.4% in Canadian dollars.

Despite the slowdown in the manufacturing sector in Germany and Japan, eurozone markets yielded positive returns of 10.8% in Canadian dollars, while Asian markets also grew by 5.8% in Canadian dollars.

⁽¹⁾ For the years ended December 31, 2015 and before, the information is derived from the audited annual financial statements in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles as defined in Part V of the Canada CPA Handbook. As a result, net assets per unit presented in the financial statements differ from the net asset value calculated for the purposes of calculating unit prices and the differences are explained in the notes to the financial statements. For the following fiscal years, the information is derived from audited annual financial statements in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS). In compliance with these Standards, net assets per unit presented in the financial statements generally equal the net asset value calculated to establish unit prices.

⁽²⁾ Management expense ratio includes management fees and operating expenses. It excludes income tax withheld on dividend income and transaction costs, and is expressed as a percentage of the daily average annualized net asset value during the fiscal year.

MANAGEMENT FEES

The Portfolio pays management fees to the Manager, Professionals' Financial – Mutual Funds Inc., for service rendered to the unitholders, and investment management and administration services. The annual management fees of 0.95% are calculated daily according to the net assets and paid monthly after deducting the value of interfund investments. For the first six months of the year 2019, the Portfolio paid $394,000 to its Manager.

PAST PERFORMANCE

Information on performance presupposes that the Portfolio's distributions during the periods presented have been totally reinvested in additional units. The returns do not include deductions for sales fees, transfer, redemption or other optional fees (because there are none) or income taxes payable, and would be lower if they included such items. The Portfolio's past performance is not necessarily indicative of future performance.

Annual Performance

The following bar graph indicates the Portfolio's annual returns for each year. It shows the year-to-year variation in the Portfolio's return. The graph presents, in percentage form, what would have been the upward or downward variation, on the last day of the period, of an investment made on the first day of that period.
